Alix Schneider is a paralegal in the Workplace Solutions Group. With over a decade of experience supporting attorneys and clients across a wide range of employment-based and family-based immigration matters, she is adept at navigating complex immigration regulations, coordinating with global stakeholders, and contributing to the success of international assignment and relocation programs.

Alix prepares and files a wide range of employment-based and family-based petitions and applications, including H-1B (standard and International Renown for Physicians), O-1A, O-1B, National Interest Waiver (NIW), I-140, Adjustment of Status, and Naturalization. She collaborates with practice group members to develop strategic approaches for complex cases and ensure timely, accurate submissions.

Alix earned her Bachelor of Arts in international studies from the George Washington University.
