As an experienced litigation paralegal, Brandy has participated in civil cases involving complex personal injury, products liability, class actions, medical malpractice defense, and asbestos litigation.

Brandy collaborates closely with our attorneys and clients analyzing and developing strategies in all phases of the case from initial intake through discovery, trial and appeal. She is involved with investigations, preparing expert witnesses, legal and medical research, and drafting pleadings and discovery responses, and insurance cost recovery. Brandy is well-versed with trial preparation and has managed and created trial exhibits, trial notebooks, binders and more.

Brandy is well immersed in the technological world and takes advantage of new technology as much as possible for her professional growth. She oversees multiple client databases, including dedicated databases used to track, allocate, and recover legal defense costs and settlements from insurers. She also assisted in the implementation of AI software that is used by our attorneys and staff.

Brandy joined Ice Miller in its Indianapolis office as a Mail Services Clerk in 2004. Over the years, due to her hard work and overall knowledge of legal systems and processes, she advanced in the firm and held positions such as file clerk and legal services assistant (including assistant to a Managing Partner for 7 years). This unique pathway allowed Brandy to gain an in-depth understanding of legal processes and technology which she utilizes to provide efficient, high-quality services to clients in her current role as a paralegal.
