Hannah Bondurant is an Associate in Ice Miller's Litigation group with commercial litigation experience representing a broad range of clients, including developers, financial institutions, contractors, small businesses, health care systems, and more. Her experience in working with complex fact patterns, highly skilled expert witnesses, and involved litigation strategies has helped Hannah develop a thorough, direct, and client-centric approach to efficiently accomplishing any client's goals.

Prior to joining Ice Miller, Hannah represented some of the largest financial institutions and healthcare systems in the region. She also served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Alison L. Asti on the Circuit Court for Anne Arundel County.

Hannah graduated cum laude from the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law. She served as Editor in Chief of the Maryland Journal of Race, Religion, Gender & Class, was a member of the Labor & Employment Law Trial Team, and earned the William P. Cunningham Award for exceptional achievements and service to the school. During law school, Hannah was also a judicial intern for the Honorable Clayton Greene, Jr., an intern with the Office of the Attorney General, and a law clerk at Biran Kelly, LLC.
