Katie Glick serves as practice group director for the Governmental Affairs & Regulatory Law group. In this role, Katie is responsible for providing the group with leadership and management across all markets. She works closely with the practice group leaders and firm management to develop strategic business plans and is responsible for overseeing various aspects of administration, management, and day-to-day business operations for the practice group. Katie was formerly the practice group director for the Real Estate group for three years as well.

Before returning to Ice Miller, Katie worked at Bar Communications, a strategic public affairs and public relations firm as vice president of engagement, where she concentrated in public affairs, marketing strategy and business development. Katie has extensive experience working in public affairs and advocacy within government, politics and the private sector. She previously worked at Ice Miller as the agribusiness strategy manager and business development manager following roles at Indiana Soybean Alliance, Indiana Corn Marketing Council and Indiana Corn Growers Association. Katie began her career working for former Indiana Governor Mitch Daniels and former Indianapolis Mayor Greg Ballard. Additionally, she has experience in PAC and trade association management along with fundraising and industry relations.

Katie is a board member and chair of Indiana Humanities. She is a member of the Heritage Fund of Bartholomew County Board of Directors and serves as the grants committee chair and executive committee member, and is the former chair of the organization's Women's Giving Circle. She is a member of the Indiana Leadership Council of The Policy Circle. Katie served a three year term as one of Governor Eric Holcomb's nominees on the Indiana Judicial Nominating Commission and Judicial Qualifications Commission. She is a member of the Stanley K. Lacy Executive Leadership Series Class 47, and a member of the Indiana Leadership Council, in addition to being a graduate and former board member of the Richard G. Lugar Excellence in Public Service Series. She is also actively involved with her national fraternity, Alpha Chi Omega, as a chapter advisor. She is also an alumna of the American Enterprise Institute Leadership Network, member of the U.S. Global Leadership Coalition Indiana Advisory Committee and has been a contributing columnist for her hometown newspaper, The Reporter Times, among other publications.
