Matt Langley is an associate in Ice Miller's Litigation Group. He focuses his diverse practice on complex commercial disputes, guiding his clients through all stages of litigation efficiently and strategically so they can remain focused on running their businesses without unnecessary disruption. Matt also regularly represents clients in matters involving employment issues, product liability, regulatory enforcement proceedings, and white-collar defense in federal and state courts across the country.

Matt graduated cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center, where he served as Articles Editor on the Georgetown Law Journal. Prior to joining Ice Miller, Matt clerked for the Honorable Bernice B. Donald of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, and for the Honorable Waverly D. Crenshaw, Jr. of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee. He also practiced at two other international law firms in Washington, D.C.
