Ryan Jarmula is a member of Ice Miller's Government Affairs & Regulatory Law Group. Ryan has held many roles on Capitol Hill and served as a Special Assistant to the President in the White House. He brings this experience to Ice Miller as a trusted public affairs strategist, communications advisor, and business consultant.

As Senior Director of Government Affairs, Ryan helps with issue monitoring and engagement to support client policies, business strategies, and legal objectives. Ryan merges the depth of his network with sound counsel and a trusted, insightful voice to strengthen his clients' objectives.

Prior to joining Ice Miller, Ryan worked as Chief of Staff in the Office of U.S. Congressman Greg Pence, where he led a team of congressional staffers and set communication strategies and public policy initiatives. In this position, he managed relationships with local, state and federal officials, as well as constituents and the media.

Ryan served as Special Assistant to the President for Speechwriting and Policy Development at the White House during the first Trump Administration. Before serving as a Presidential speechwriter, Ryan was a Policy and Communications Advisor to the Trump-Pence 2016 campaign, where he helped craft policy speeches and served as a strategist for local and national press surrogates.

Previously, Ryan served as a speechwriter to former Indiana Governor Mike Pence and was a legislative advisor to Pence during his time in the United States House of Representatives.
